TALCUM FOR POLISHING RICE.

Louisiana State Rice Milling Co., New Orleans.

An article which we find difficult to procure in this country is a very high-grade talcum, used for the polishing of rice. We have, up to the time of the European war, purchased our entire requirements from Austria. They were able to supply a very high-grade of Austrian Stearin tale.

There is quite a variety of domestic tale, but so far we have not found anything equal to either the Austrian or Italian article. We should be very glad to have you put us in touch with a house in this country, in a position to furnish something equal to these goods.

(Note.—Other replies will be printed in The American Economist in succeeding issues.—Ed.)

THE FREE-TRADE RESULT.

The American farmer pays for the privilege of selling his products in an American market—the privilege is paid for in the way of taxes; but the Argentine farmer, the Canadian farmer, the Australian farmer and every other farmer in the world has been given the privilege of selling in the American market without its costing him one red cent.

Is it fair to thus discriminate against our fellow countrymen.—Brookfield (Mo.) Gazette.

THE CONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE SURTAX IMPOSED BY the new Federal law on incomes over $20,000 was raised in a case docketed July 30 in the Supreme Court by John F. Dodge and Horace E. Dodge, Detroit automobile manufacturers. Two cases already before the court complain of the invalidity of other features of the law.

Whatever the result of the European war may be, Great Britain will take the first opportunity to revise its tariff. There will be need of greatly increased government revenues and there will be an irresistible demand in the land of Cobden for duties high enough to shut out everything "made in Germany."

When You Need Anything in the Line of

CLOCKS

Get the best. We will furnish you with any of the goods mentioned above for a price that will be satisfactory to you. In Clocks we the world. In Cut Glass we handle Libbey's, without an equal. In

Sterling Silver we handle Gorham Manufacturing Company, Whiting

Manufacturing Company and Towle's line. In Watches, Howard,

THE WAR AND THE TARIFF.

The financial editor of the Boston Post analyzes the effect of the war upon our industries in a way that must seem heretical to the editorial department of this typical Democratic paper.

Here is what the Post's financial editor says:

"When the first big shock caused by the outbreak of the great European war is over and the money situation can be brought back to anything like a normal basis, it is believed that certain industries which were in a way to suffer more or less from revised tariff schedules will—so far as the tariff is concerned—be restored to the same condition as prevailed prior to the revision. In a word, the outbreak of the war has practically nullified the revised tariff schedule entirely, and left the home market without competition from abroad. In the steel and iron and the textile industries, especially, it is believed that many concerns which were struggling to readjust their operations to the new tariff will be able to go ahead on their old methods. Of course a good deal will depend upon how domestic business works out with the big war going on, but the general impression is that in a short time the European nations with practically their entire productive forces under arms will have to depend on the United States for almost everything they wear and eat.

"It is true that our manufacturers are being handicapped by the fact that they are unable to secure certain products which enter into the process of manufacture, such as dyes in the textile field, hides in the shoe industry and ferro-manganese in the steel trade; but it is expected that this will be overcome in some cases by substitutions and by imports from neutral countries in others. The main problem is to get ships to carry on foreign trade and to clear the ocean so that such trade is safe and economical."

RETRIBUTIVE JUSTICE.

The tax of 20 cents a gallon on domestic wines, one of California's principal products, makes it appear that retributive justice is right on the heels of a commonwealth which cast less than 4,000 votes two years ago in favor of the party that was under fire because of the enactment of a Tariff law which fostered California industries and gave the State such prosperity as it never before had experienced.—Indiana State Journal.

LIVELY TIMES NEAR THE SEELBACH.

You Kentuckians—that is some of you—I fear, are disposed to be flirtatious and fickle," says Bert Winters, member of the State Accounting Commission, of Indiana, who had business in the southern part of the State the latter part of the week and ran over to Louisville to see the races. "I was standing at Fourth and Walnut streets," he goes on, "when a chap who had the earmarks of a Gussie boy, accosted me.

"'I beg your pardon,' he began, 'but did you happen to see a tall, handsome blonde in lavender turn the corner and go out Walnut street a minute ago?'

"'No, I didn't,' I said, 'but I happened to see a stunning little brunette in black.'

"'Would you mind telling me which way she went,' he questioned.

"'She went out Walnut street,' I answered.

"'The last I saw of him he was headed out Walnut street'—Louisville Times.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctored lots for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work.

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 48 years years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

BLOWING THE CIRCULATING MEDIUM.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)

Into the environs of the slow, old-fashioned Southern city made famous by the misadventures of a character no less renowned than "Old Reliable," two members of an all but obsolete profession presented themselves one October day. They were chimney sweeps. Having performed their work, they awaited the generous recompense that followed the perilous passage of wide chimneys, such as are no longer built. "You make good wages, my men," said the bookstore proprietor in a patronizing tone, "and, may I ask, what do you do with your money?" The chief black-smoother turned to his friend with an air of intimate understanding, then answered the inquirer in deprecatory fashion: "Well, sor, to tell you the truth, we circulate it!"

PUBLIC SALE

If not sold privately previously, and considering the serious condition of my eyes, I will offer at Public Sale to the highest bidder on October 14th, 1914, at two o'clock, p. m., at the courthouse in Maysville, Ky., my farm, containing one hundred and fifty-two acres, two roads and twenty-six poles. It is situated on the Minerva and Dover turnpike, about one and a half miles from Fern Leaf. This farm has on it a residence of nine rooms and another house of five rooms, and the necessary outbuildings; also a splendid tobacco barn, eighty-four feet long, a stripping house and large ice house. It is well fenced, with woven wire fence, and well watered. Is all in grass but about fifteen acres, which is in corn. I have no hesitancy in stating that this is one of the best farms in that location of the county, all of the land is walnut, sugar tree and ash, grows a very fine quality of tobacco. There is also an abundance of locust timber and sufficient fruit. It is convenient to one of the best schools in the country, with four school wagons passing to convey the children to school, also several churches near, and is in a splendid neighborhood, which is very essential in seeking a location. The farm will be offered as a whole and in two tracts, as it can be divided and make two nice-size farms with a house on each. Possession given November 7th, 1914, with the exception of the corn land, which will be when the corn is cribbed. Terms of sale, one-third of the purchase money November 3rd, 1914, and the other two-thirds in one and two years, with a lien retained on the land and six per cent. interest per annum on deferred payments. If the purchaser prefers they can pay all cash. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids if not satisfactory.

Any one wishing to buy will please call at my rooms at the residence of Mr. P. W. Wheeler, 221 West Second street, Maysville, Ky.
